Foreword

As Father Time sums up the tremendous events of the past fifty years he must smile as he compares our huge, air-conditioned, beautifully designed and landscaped houses of learning with the little red brick country school of fifty years ago. Could the boys and girls of the 1900's have visioned the auto, the airplane, radio, television? No—just as we, standing on the threshold of the Half Century, cannot vision all the wonderful, exciting things ahead of us for the next fifty years.

Let's roll back the curtain of Time and look in on us as junior high students. There's something magic and grownup about the words after spending six long, long years in the lower grades. Then, suddenly we're in high school—Freshmen—a little scared—proud and important, with a feeling that we've arrived. Sophomores and Juniors—the in between years of our high school days are packed full of interesting events, disappointment, wonderfully exciting days, but always there looms the proud day when we are the ones on Top,—Seniors at last.

Then comes the fleeting year that seems to be racing away from us. No, we can't be graduating already. Not we, who only last week, or was it yesterday, were starting this four-year journey.

Now it's graduation night and memories come flooding in—cherished ones that we can lock in our hearts for keeps. We realize that too soon it's all over. Tomorrow we'll go our separate ways alone and yet with a bond that unites us of Mentor High, forever.

And so, as Father Time is recording this special 1950 edition of our Mentor High School, let's peek over his shoulder and read what he has written about you and me as Time Marches On.

In Memoriam

Gene Fryan

Far off to adventurous lands,
Far, far away,
Life is different there—
Far, far away.
Land of unknown,
Land of peace,
Land of plenty;
Land of dreamers.

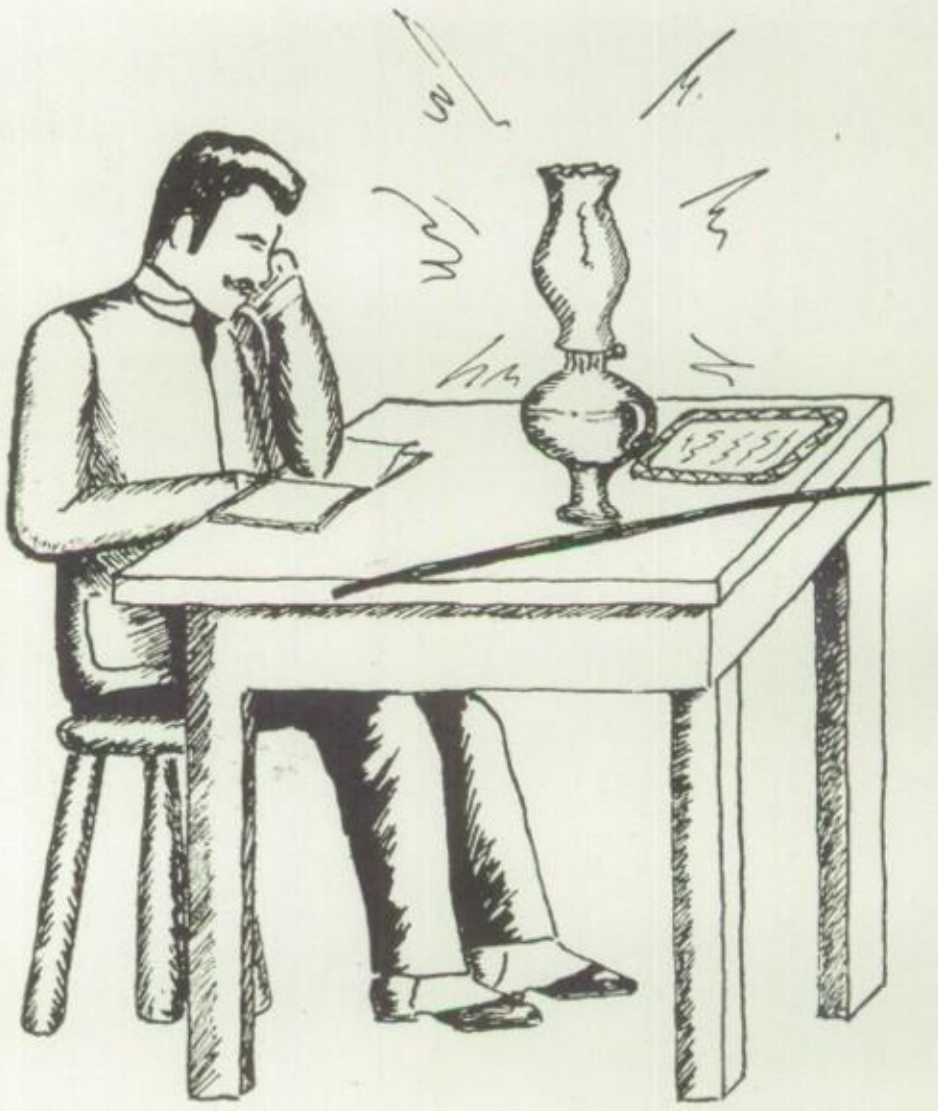
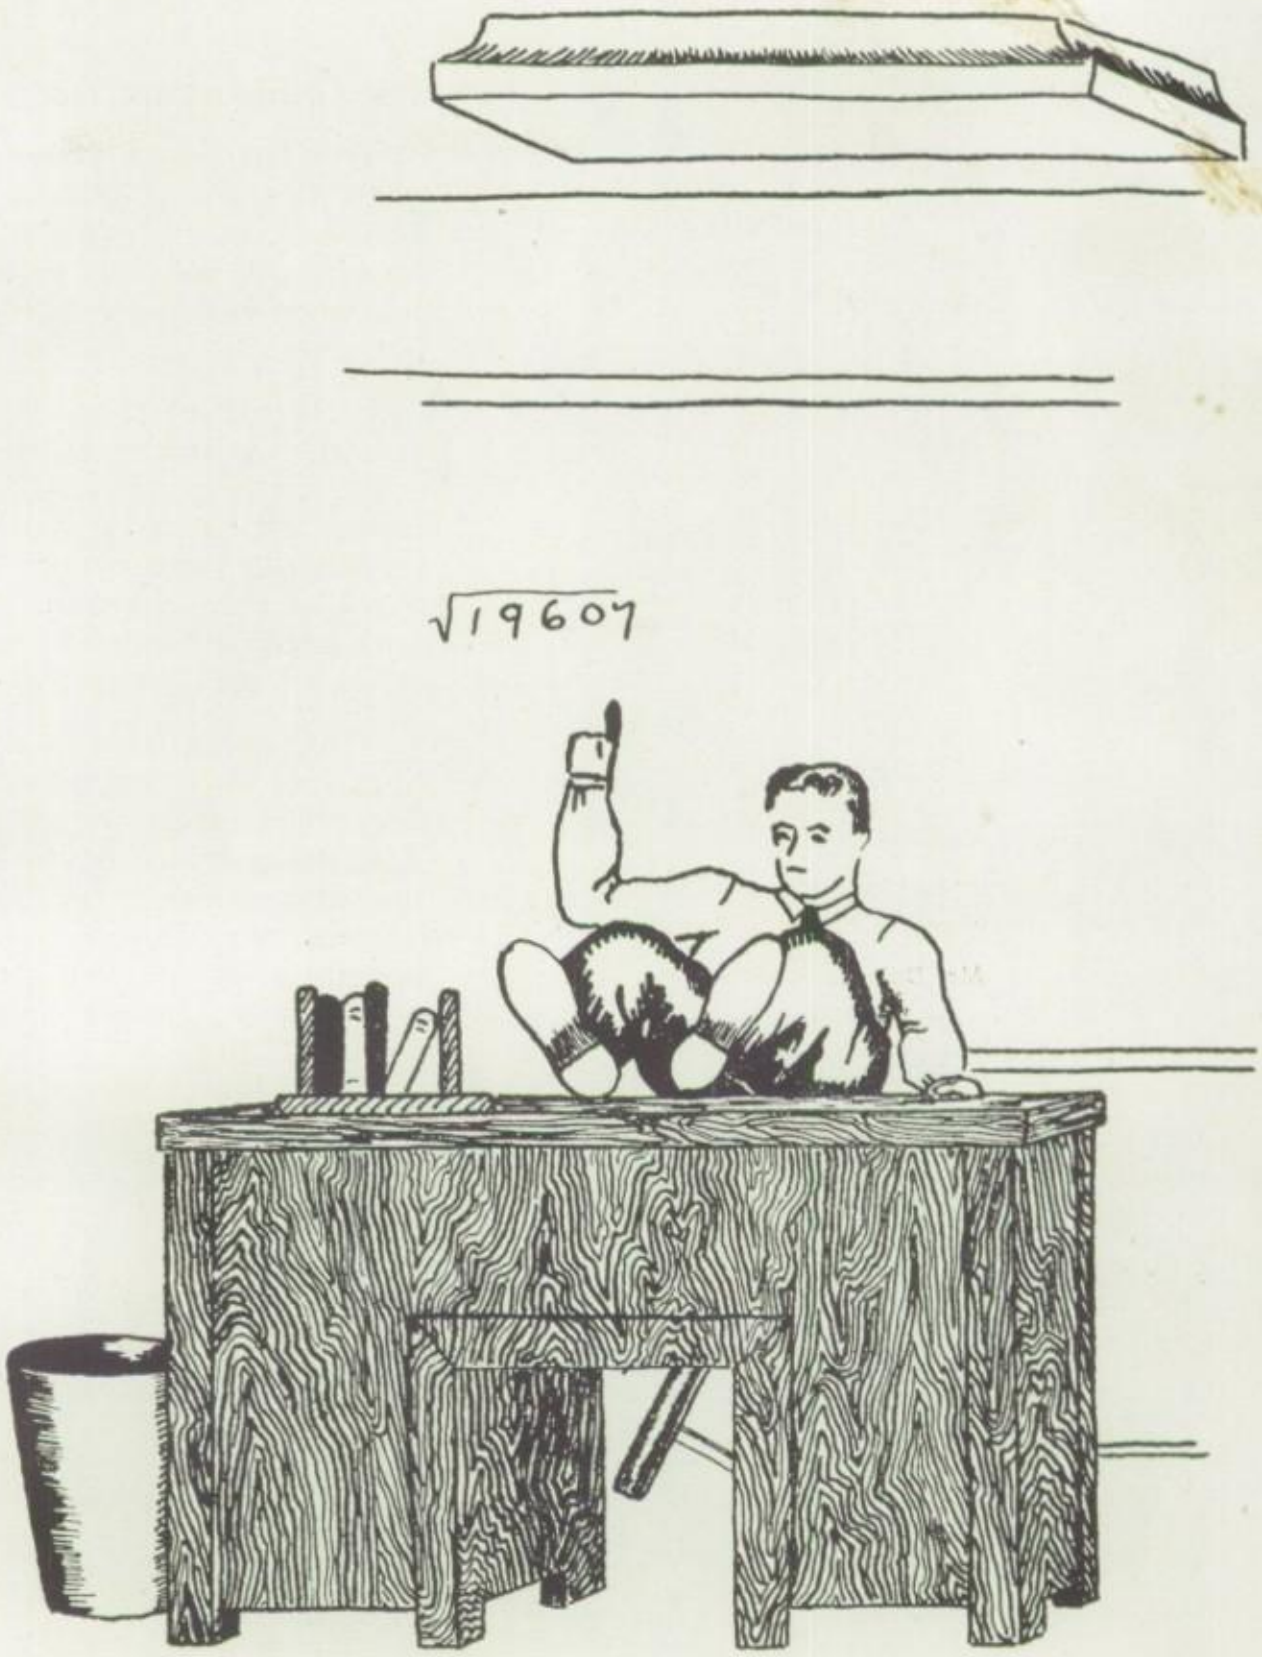
Dedication

The Senior Class of 1950 wishes to dedicate its annual to Miss Helen Craig, for her kind understanding and many years of service to Mentor High School.





Administration

Mr. Dale R. Rice

The Graduating Class of 1950:

The theme of your year book, "Mid-Century", suggests the characteristic of the Roman God, Janus, who can look both forward and backward. From this vantage point, we may look both directions—to the past to see what has gone before and to the future to see what lies ahead.

In terms of a century, Mentor High School is very young. It was established only half of the half century ago. During its brief existence, it has grown from infancy into a lusty youth and its size is about six times its meager beginning. Before it reaches its half-century mark, it should reach a full grown maturity, both in size and accomplishment, which should be far beyond the scope of our imaginations.

You, as seniors, are graduating and starting your lives looking forward rather than backward in anticipation of what is in store during the next half-century. You are graduating at an age when you will be able to see and experience the amazing developments of the half-century ahead. If progress in science and industry develops as in the past, wonderful accomplishments and revelations are in store for you.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

May you have health to enjoy the wonders of the new half-century; the intellect to cope with its problems; spirit and faith to carry you through troubles; and an optimism to buoy you up to meet successfully its stimulating challenges.

While advancing toward any goal, it is wise to contemplate the future frequently, review the past, check progress, survey what is still to be accomplished, and plan how it may best be done.

At this mid-century mark Americans can well ask: How far have we proceeded the past fifty years? Where are we going the next fifty? Where are we now? What future course shall we plan for the concluding half of the twentieth century?

In devising comforts, luxuries, labor saving machines, entertainment, means of travel, and weapons of war, we have come far; in improving government, homes, fine arts, international and inter-group relations, and improving democratic citizenship we still have far to go. May the energy, eagerness, zest and ability of 1950's high school youth go far in achieving worthy goals.

SENIORS

Rex led the march of time when elections came 'round in September . . . Seniors took I.Q. and aptitude tests and discovered ability as traveling salesmen when they sold Christmas cards, stationery and wrapping paper. . . . Annual pictures arrived amid a chorus of sighs and groans. . . . As time went by, girl of the hour, Mary Ann Booker was chosen Homecoming Queen. . . . Year flew and Seniors danced the night away at the Prom. . . . "Pomp and Circumstance" made memories when commencement caps and gowns were donned. . . . "But it just started. . . . How could it end so soon?" . . . But time and tides wait for no man.

JUNIORS

We introduce to you the timely juniors. . . . "Will the meeting come to order Moodey" led the class through their '49-'50 year. . . . Class rings arrived but some girls found theirs too large. They were forced to put a wad of red tape on them. . . . "Wanna buy a pencil?" was the typical saying heard everyday. . . . On Friday nights it was, "Get your hot dogs here, only 15c. . . . Thirsty students were rewarded with the coke machine, open every night. . . . Then came the Junior Play and was it swell! . . . The main event. On May thirteenth, the Jr.-Sr. Prom held at beautiful Manikiki Country Club. . . . "Keep up the good work, future Seniors!

SOPHOMORES

Up to the minute Sophomores started year with "Harvest Ball" . . . Basketball season saw Sophs fattening class piggy bank with money from hat checking concession. . . . "Bring 'em back alive" was the theme of biology hopefuls as they went waving nets at butterflies and beetles. . . . Geometry puzzled pupils. . . . As we look into our crystal ball, we see the Sophs developing into future leaders.

FRESHMEN

The "Half Century" brought to the school a new class of Freshmen. . . . They were a little shy and their knees were shaking that first day. . . . "Is this where the algebra classes are held?" . . . "Where do I eat my lunch?" . . . Elections were held and three fine officers were honored with solving the class problems. . . . Annual spring dance went over with a BANG and the Freshies knew they were really part of Mentor High now.

Gordon Rostocil leaves his turtle-neck sweaters to Alberta.

Betty Ryder wills her last boy friend to Annette.

Ralph Schroeder wills his good times down in welding class to anyone likely to want the same.

Howard Scott wills his worn out pencils and crazy book reports to anyone who is in Mrs. Moor's English classes. (They will need them.)

Bonnie Sweet wills her old torn English work book to some very unlucky student to use next year.

Larry Toppari wills his welding booth to Junior Namestnik.

Barbara Troup leaves the class discussions with a sore throat; may main study be quieter next year.

Kay Welo leaves her extra proportions to Margie Bair, who can use them better than she can.

Bob White wills his seat in 12-B to some junior.

Beverly Gordon leaves all her arguments with Teddy to Barb. Kurth.

John Anewalt leaves his thriving Xmas tree business to Ralph Wright, also his '38 Ford.

Jeanne Basler leaves her seat in the senior class to Bob Creamer whenever he makes it.

Mary Ann Booker leaves all her headaches and poster making to her sister, Margaret.

Ella Brooks leaves the Home Economics class to anyone that wants to learn to sew or cook.

Ed Carney leaves Mr. Higham to anyone who wants him and his stale jokes.

Dick Christenson leaves his hay fever ring to Tom Goddard.

Betty Costello leaves Mr. Leary without a secretary.

Chuck Cottrell leaves his job of sports editor of the Com-Mentor to anyone who has a lot more time than he did.

Don Dusa leaves his senior English workbook to John Namestnik so he won't have to major in English in his senior year.

Joc Evans leaves her waist line to Donna McIntyre.

Carole Glaser leaves her unbleached hair to anyone who has a head.

Bob Hickey wills his straight eights and oil burners to Mr. Andrews.

Tom Keys leaves.

Nancy Pinney wills her head cheerleading headaches to the future head cheerleader.
John Rinehardt wills his height to Russell Phillips.
Ruth Schminky wills her other half of the school year to Betty Sloan.
Marilyn Schultz leaves her headaches and worries to whoever needs some.
Barbara Seitz heartily wills to Skippie and Ralph her feuds and fusses with John.
Jerry Smith leaves his English seat to John Namestnik who is majoring in English.
Dick Spieker leaves his one arm drivers' and neckers' license and headaches of the Com-Mentor to George DeVaull.
Bob Thompson leaves his Physics book to some brainy junior (my sister Pat).
Sally Traxler leaves the gym balcony to Mr. Michael.
Vivian Walker leaves the dictaphone to any unfortunate person who gets it.

REMEMBER THE DAY

Remember the day when Carolyn rode around in old cars?
Remember the day of Betty Jane's P.J. party—and the fire crackers too?
Remember the day when Marge Lucas was as small as a peanut and wore pigtails?
Remember the day Carole and Marilyn set the firecracker off in main study hall?
Remember the day Nancy Hansen called everyone a bird?
Remember Schultz's Buick and the summer in Mr. Hanna's pool?
Remember Junior play practice last year?
Remember Mallett's 17th birthday party?
Remember all of Jeanne Basler's steadies?
Remember the day when Ted and Bev didn't fight?
Remember the night when our football team was in jail?
Remember Queen Hobson at our Freshman dance?
Remember Mrs. Moor before she was married?
Remember Friday the 13th of "49", this year's senior classes first prom?
Remember the day when M. Markell and Hobson were fancy free?
Remember the day when the two Marilyn's had blond hair?
Remember the day when they called Teddy bashful?
Remember the day when big John Rinehardt was a little boy?
Remember the day of Donna Bell's parties and all the good pictures?
Remember the day when Nancy, Betty Jane, and Betty Ann had their lucky steadies in school with them?
Remember the day Bill Blakemore lost his front tooth?
Remember the day Howard Scott got his hot-rod car?
Remember the year when John Anewalt was deprived of a few things?
Remember the day Mary Ann was crowned football queen?
Remember the day when Don Suckfuel came to Mentor?
Remember the days of going to happy-go-lucky Murray's house?
Does anyone remember the days of riding with Kroggel—hold on tight?
Remember the day when Mallett, Hickey and Carter were such shy boys?
Remember the days when Tom Biddell drove the kids around town?
Remember the day when we were freshmen and thought we were big deals?
Remember the days of Dick Christenson's hay-fever?
Remember the days of Lillian and Margie's quietness?
Remember Betty Ryder who got blamed for things she never did in Home Ec. room?
Remember our freshman dance, Spring Fever?
Remember our trying times in the Moors' English classes?
Remember the night we won over Willoughby in football?
Always remember the Seniors of 1950.

Benny Dietrich	Fisher's Drive In	Get out of school	"What people don't know won't hurt them"	To have someone look over my shoulder	When two girls came when my boy friend and I were swimming in the river
Homer Dunham	Winfield's	Have my own business	"Hi honey"	Men who say "get down low and charge fast"	When I sit on the bench and our team loses

Name	Favorite Hangout	Ambition	Favorite Saying	Pet Peeve	Most Embarrassing Moments
Don Dusa	Stan's Place	Play baseball	"Boy, you ain't kidding"	People who razz an athlete when he loses and they don't play themselves	One night in play practice we snuck in the gym to wrestle and Frank Greene caught us hiding in the shower room
Ralph Schroeder		I'm thinking about one	"Can't say it"	People who keep saying "What?"	Time dinner bell fell on my head
Ruth Schminky	Walton's Roller Rink	Airlines Communicationist	"My gosh!"	People who fight	Time my skirt ripped while skating
Marilyn Schultz	Hobson's	See Hobson's kids	"Have you seen him?"	Milly Hobson or some of your good "friends"	January 7, 1933 and from then on
Howard Scott	Quick's Gambling House	Be a success	"Boy are you tricky"	Women drivers	Coming home from 'Bula in back of band bus
Barbara Seitz	New Euclid Theatre	Go to college	"Well, I never!"	People who are always late	The Prom in my Soph. year
Frank Simon		Motion projection work and U. S. Navy	"Tally ho!"
Jerry Smith	Mentor Marsh	Be a good hunter	"Sprint to 'em—sprint thru 'em"	Women drivers	Time a woman teacher walked in on us in the shower room
Don Suckfuell	Koster's in Willoughby	Sports commentator and writer	"That's the way to be"	'Brains'	When I came to Mentor
Bonnie Sweet	Vink's	Piano teacher		People—period	Too embarrassing
Dick Spieker	Red's	Graduate	"You tell 'em Wagon Wheel"	People who beat around the bush	Caught chewing gum in shop class
Bob Thompson	Monk's	Be a success	"You dumb Yak Yak"	Younger sister in Jr. class	When Harold and I went halfway to Akron with emergency on!
Larry Toppari	Home	To travel	"Hi Buddy"	Kids who shout in the halls	The time my experiment blew up in chemistry
Sally Traxler	Grand River	Get Carolyn to laugh at my jokes	"Hi ya chicken"	The one who calls me grandma	I'm still blushing
Barbara Troup	'46 Studebaker	Get through college	"I don't know—but "	People who are late	An old rickety chair—Jr. play—'49
Vivian Walker	1400 Dream Street	Secretary	"You didn't mean it"	People who think they can sing	When caught cooning melons
Kay Welo	Garfield's	Graduate	"Oh my Heavens!"	Conceited men	Time I fell flat on my—face—in the new downtown Greyhound terminal
Robert White	Quick's Gambling House	Nursery man		Mr. Higham's civics tests
